REPORT PLOT TO ACCUSE OFFICIAL OF TAKING BRIBE

TERRY DRUGGAN, FRANKIE
LAKE, AL CAPONE, JACK GU-
ZIK NAMED IN REPORT

Chicago, Sept. 27.—(UP)—Reports that federal officials have uncovered a plot by Terry Druggan and other gang leaders to accuse U. S. District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson of in some way accepting a bribe were made today after Johnson himself was questioned by officials from Washington.

Druggan, Frankie Lake, Al Capone, and Jack Guzik, all of whom have been charged by Johnson with income tax evasions, were named as being involved in the sensational plot although it was said Capone refused to become directly involved because he did not want to give out the impression he was a "squealer."

The reported plot was said to have been resorted to as a desperate move to destroy Attorney Johnson's character and obstruct further prosecution of the gang leaders on tax charges.

According to reports there was an elaborately laid plan to make it appear that Druggan had paid $75,000 to some government official and that, as the climax of the plot, Druggan himself would take the witness stand and swear he had paid that amount indirectly to Attorney Johnson for immunity from punishment.

Johnson, the reports said, became suspicious that something of the kind was going on and before the gangsters had completed their preliminaries, himself took up the matter with higher officials in Washington. It was said the plot already had advanced so far that a representative of the gangsters has carried to Washington a secret report which was intended to arouse suspicion of Johnson.

INMATES OF STATE INSTITUTIONS TO ENJOY TALKIES

ASK FOR BIDS FOR PICTURE
MACHINES FOR PENAL COR-
RECTIONAL UNITS

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 26.—(UP)—Talking pictures soon will be introduced for inmates of Minnesota's penal and correctional institutions, C. J. Swendsen, senior member of the state board of control, said today.

Swendsen called for bids on 12 talking picture machines, which will replace the present silent machines. Approximately $2,000 will be spent in the modernization.

The first machines will be placed in the Stillwater prison, St. Cloud reformatory, Red Wing training school and several of the larger hospitals maintained by the state.

Radios have been installed in the St. Peter and Fergus Falls state hospitals for the insane, Swendsen said. Individual radio sets have been placed in the state hospital for tuberculosis patients and the board member said it was planned to extend the use of radio at least to every ward in other institutions.

Weather Bureau Warns of Possible Frost

Possible frost tonight was forecast by the United States weather bureau.

The sky will be clear tonight and Sunday, with frost in the lowlands and warmer weather Sunday.

The Friday high temperature was 56 degrees and dropped to 48 this morning.

Capt. Hawks. to Visit Rogers at Claremore

New York, Sept. 26.—(UP)—Captain Frank Hawks, famed flyer, took off today for Claremore, Okla., despite the rainy weather. He expected to visit Will Rogers, humorist, in Oklahoma. Hawks indicated he was not trying for any speed record.

Drunken Slayer

Sociologists or ordinary citizens may well ask, "What is the world coming to?" when they read of how six-year-old Joe McKinzie (above) became drunk and started playing with the gun that discharged and killed Allen K. Marr, a 76-year-old farmer, who was dozing nearby the "playful" lad in Washington, D. C. Joe will be sent to an institution, authorities say.

TRAIN SEVERS FINGERS
Chillicothe, O., Sept. 26.—(UP)—George Williams, 29, of Portsmouth, was robbed of $40 and a wrist to a railroad track by two bandits. He freed his legs and left hand, but a train cut two fingers from the right hand.

LIVES OF THREE PERSONS SAVED BY RESPIRATORS

VACATE MACHINES AFTER RE-
COVERING SUFFICIENTLY FROM PARALYSIS

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 26.—(UP)—Twin City Drinker respirators were being vacated today as three patients who had shared two machines were recovered sufficiently to remain out for long periods of time.

Clarence Swanberg, 10, St. Paul, was spending only a part of the night and mornings in the respirator at Ancker hospital. The machine was shared part time by Eloise Pappenheim, 10, St. Paul. The girl was able to breathe by herself all last night, nurses at Ancker hospital said, thus leaving the machine empty several hours last night.

Carl Rasi, 19, Superior, Wis., recovered sufficiently to do his own breathing before the girl was transferred from the University of Minnesota hospital to make way for David Savage, 13, Duluth, who was rushed to Minneapolis this week in an attempt to save his life.

JAPAN STANDS FIRM AS CHINA'S PLEA FOR LEAGUE INTERVENTION IN DISPUTE REMAINS UNANSWERED

SAVE SQUIRREL IN GULL

Ellis Anderson, Pine street, had two severe bites in his right hand today inflicted when a grey squirrel he rescued a mile from shore in Gull Lake near Squaw Point bit him.

Walter Wittala and Fred Cartwright, Brainerd, can substantiate the strange happening that occurred on the fishing party.

"We were almost in the center of the lake when he saw a grey squirrel struggling about in the water. We rowed to it and I put my hand out to help the squirrel into the boat. As I did the frightened animal bit me in the hand and held on until I had lifted it into the boat. The squirrel remained motionless in the boat until we brought it to shore," Anderson said.

Later, the squirrel was brought to Brainerd and given its freedom.

Dr. Alfredo Sze, head of the Chinese delegation, told the council that in view of the Japanese military invasion of Chinese territory "direct negotiations are absolutely impossible."

It was obvious that neither China nor Japan would retreat from their respective positions. Japan continued firmly decided to settle the dispute by direct negotiations while China sought advantage of her membership in the league council, achieved after three years for the primary purpose of using membership to settle disputes with Japan.

Canton, China, Sept. 26.—(UP)—A Central Press dispatch today quoted Eugene Chen, former left wing leader of the nationalist government, as having sent a communication to Tokyo charging the Japanese with a seeming breach of faith in the invasion of Manchuria.

Chen, one-time secretary to the late Dr. Sun Yat-sen and now a leader in the Cantonese movement against Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, stated that during informal conversations with officials in Japan they assured him the annexation of Manchuria was further from their intentions, and that they recognized it as an integral part of China.

Chen said that recent events constituted a denial of this definition of policy.

"Deeds are being done on Chinese soil which would move even the weakest of nations to indignation and resistance," Chen told the Japanese.

Has Chance for Recovery

The elderly Fromback is given slight chance to recover. His lips were nearly cut away by broken glass.

The other occupants of both cars were also badly cut and bruised. X-rays were taken today to determine if there were bones fractured.

Highway patrol officers continued their investigation of the cause of the smash today. They reported they had been informed that Wedikan was under the influence of liquor and was driving on the wrong side of the highway. Wedikan was driving north while Jallen was driving south.

People from Pine River rushed the injured to the Brainerd hospital.

LET'S CONTRACTS FOR $60,248 STATE PROJECTS TODAY

Twenty contracts on nine state projects involving $60,248 were let today by H. W. Austin, state purchasing commissioner.

Construction of a new army at Anoka at a cost of approximately $20,000 was one of the larger projects let. Carlson & Haaslen, Ortonville, were awarded the general contract with a bid of $13,150. The Hanke Heating company, St. Paul, will do the plumbing and heating work for $3,893 while the General Electric company, St. Paul, will do the electric installations for $291.

Pancratz Company, Little Falls, received a contract for an oil burner and fuel storage tank at Camp Ripley with a bid of $1,700.

Geneva, Sept. 26.—(UP)—China's appeal to the League of Nations council to intervene in Manchuria due to a threat of war remained unanswered today as the council adjourned to allow private discussions of the Manchurian situation.

Lord Cecil of England said the council had fulfilled its duties under Article XI of the league covenant, by which the league may be asked to intervene to prevent "war or the threat of war" between league members. He agreed with Kenkichi Yoshizawa, head of the Japanese delegation, that the duty of settling the dispute rested with China and Japan.

Diplomatic circles regarded the league's efforts so far as distinctly favorable to Japan. If it is impossible for Japan and China to settle their difficulties, however, China may appeal to the league under Article XV of the covenant, by which league members may submit for settlement disputes which are not settled by arbitration or judicial means.

Dr. Alfredo Sze, head of the Chinese delegation, told the council that in view of the Japanese military invasion of Chinese territory "direct negotiations are absolutely impossible."

It was obvious that neither China nor Japan would retreat from their respective positions. Japan continued firmly decided to settle the dispute by direct negotiations while China sought advantage of her membership in the league council, achieved after three years for the primary purpose of using membership to settle disputes with Japan.

EX-EVELETH CITY OFFICIALS ENTER NOT GUILTY PLEAS

ALDERMAN AMBROZICH TO GO ON TRIAL ON CHARGE OF PRE-
SENTING FALSE CLAIM

Virginia, Minn., Sept. 26.—(UP)—Alderman J. A. Ambrozich of Eveleth will go on trial early next week on charges of presenting a false claim for $298.80, Chester S. Wilson, assistant state attorney general, said today.

The trial of the alderman will be the first of a series of prosecutions against St. Louis county and Eveleth city officials following indictments returned by a grand jury. The jury found evidence, according to its report, that four former aldermen and Former Mayor Victor Essling had conspired to obtain money on false claims.

The cases will be prosecuted by Wilson and Harry E. Boyle, St. Louis county attorney.

Others who will be called for trial after Ambrozich include the former mayor, William Murray, Victor Park, and Andrew Anderson, all former aldermen. Louis Govze, former St. Louis county employee, Sam Siegel, R. Foznanovic, Eveleth merchants, also will be tried for having assisted the city employees in their conspiracy.

When the group was called before Judge Edward Freeman for hearing yesterday, all pleaded not guilty.

Memphis Physician Stabbed by Lawyer

Mingled Cheers and 'Boos' Greet Gandhi in Mill Area

Darwen, Lancashire, England, Sept. 26.—(UP)—Mahatma Gandhi was cheered and "boomed" as he motored through Lancashire cotton spinning towns today where smokeless cotton mill chimneys testified to his boycott of British cloth in India.

Gandhi passed through two miles of street lined with grim, stone houses.

A policeman was placed at every 50 feet along the route. The cowed, pinch-faced men and women who saw Gandhi pass, made no protest. There was not the slightest threat of disorder.

Gandhi was received by the mayor of Darwen and representatives of cotton mill owners and employees at the Darwen town hall.

He was up early at Springvale, where he spent the night at the home of a local social worker. He prayed, bathed and took a walk through the streets before breakfast.

Later, Gandhi received a few residents of Darwen, Springvale and the neighboring towns, including members of the clergy.

London, Sept. 26.—The effect of the Indian boycott of British cloth is seen in statistics of Indian imports of cotton goods.

For four months ending August 1, imports were 139,520,000 yards compared with 300,286,000 yards during the corresponding period of 1930.

Even the unemployed in Lancashire on the "dole" were more prosperous than employed workers in India, Gandhi commented, since the average income of all India's workers, he said, is only 7 shillings 6 pence a month, or less than $2.

"Millions in India," Gandhi said, "have no income. They have to depend on what is thrown to them in various charitable ways."

Gandhi previously told cotton employers and employees he frankly expected to continue his policy aimed at enabling Indian villages to supply their own cotton goods by hand looms.

HOPES NEW CONGRESS WILL HOLD ALL FEDERAL APPROPRIATIONS WITHIN LOWEST POSSIBLE MEANS

LOCKED IN JAIL
HE ONCE RULED

Portsmouth, O., Sept. 26.—(UP)—Nineteen cents saved Maurice J. Caldwell, once sheriff of Scioto county, from going to the Ohio penitentiary.

Caldwell was convicted of falsifying expense accounts while in office to the extent of $34.81, a misdemeanor. Had the total been $35, it would have been a felony. The ex-sheriff was sentenced to 30 days in jail and fined $200.

Today he was locked in the jail he once ruled.

Washington, Sept. 26.—(UP)—President Hoover is anxious that the new congress hold federal appropriations within the lowest possible limits.

He hopes to head off all appropriation bills that are not absolutely necessary and to postpone even meritorious projects unless they will be helpful in unemployment relief. Rigid economy is dictated by the government's financial condition. A billion-dollar deficit is in prospect and it may be necessary to increase taxes.

Mr. Hoover's views were made known as he congratulated the American Legion upon its defeat at Detroit of a resolution calling for full cash payment of the bonus. He appealed to similar organizations to discourage all increases of government expenses.

Mr. Hoover said bills proposing an additional government outlay of $5,100,000,000 (billions) were introduced in the last congress. If passed, they would have more than doubled government expenditures.

"Unless there is a general recognition that this is no time for such activities, these same pressures will again arise," Mr. Hoover stated.

"It is important that there should be a great effort on the part of organizations of our country to express their disapproval of such expenditures now, even though the projects may be most meritorious."

"They should be withheld until the country is in better condition."

The president recognized that much pressure on congress comes from voluntary organizations such as the Legion. He went to the source of the pressure with his appeal for holding expenses in line.

Mr. Hoover used similar tactics in attempting to limit the expenses of the last congress. At that time opposition leaders pointed out that there was no danger that even a fraction of the expenditures proposed would be passed. It has been a practice for congressmen to introduce all kinds of measures seeking appropriations, but many get no serious consideration from congress.

An indication that Mr. Hoover may not have his own way entirely was voiced by Sen. Harris, Tenn. Ga., ranking minority member of the senate appropriations committee.

"Economy in government expenditures should be pursued, but not to the point of crippling the government," said Harris. "If a tax increase is necessary, I favor increasing taxes on the larger incomes and on inheritance."

Harris said he believed the south would need loans again next year because of the depressed prices of cotton.

Breaks Up "Wild West" Horse Thieving Ring

Williston, N. D., Sept. 26.—(UP)—Maybe it was the depression or the drought. But probably it was just human nature!

Anyway, Sheriff Lee of Williams county announced today that he had broken up a "real wild west" horse thieving ring with the arrest of Roy Evans, 45, a farmer living near Fort Buford who was held in the Roosevelt county jail at Wolf Point, Mont.

Evans is charged with stealing horses, crossing the Montana-North Dakota line without legal inspection of animals and issuing worthless checks.

Evans was trapped when three horses corralled at Williston for shipment to Ann Arbor, Mich., were identified as stolen. Officers said Evans had made a practice of bringing animals into North Dakota from Montana for shipment to eastern markets.

Breaks Up "Wild West" Horse Thieving Ring

Williston, N. D., Sept. 26.—(UP)—Maybe it was the depression or the drought. But probably it was just human nature!

Anyway, Sheriff Lee of Williams county announced today that he had broken up a "real wild west" horse thieving ring with the arrest of Roy Evans, 45, a farmer living near Fort Buford who was held in the Roosevelt county jail at Wolf Point, Mont.

Evans is charged with stealing horses, crossing the Montana-North Dakota line without legal inspection of animals and issuing worthless checks.

Evans was trapped when three horses corralled at Williston for shipment to Ann Arbor, Mich., were identified as stolen. Officers said Evans had made a practice of bringing animals into North Dakota from Montana for shipment to eastern markets.

BRAINERD DEMANGANIZATION PLANT TO BE COMPLETED DEC. 1

WATER AND LIGHT DEPARTMENT MAKES SPEEDY PROGRESS

BRICKLAYERS ENGAGED IN RAISING WALLS OF $35,000 STRUCTURE HERE

Braierd's demanganization plant, the only of its kind in the United States, was taking form today as bricklayers were engaged in laying bricks on the outer wall lining of tile.

To Cost $35,000
The new plant is destined to remove manganese and iron from the city water supply and is the result of years of study on the subject by Carl Zapffe, geologist, president of the city water and light department, who will meet the cost of the new plant, estimated at $35,000.

W. D. McKay, secretary of the department, reported today that the building will be completed by December 1 of this year.

The plant is being erected adjacent to the city pump house. When completed it will require an operator.

Will Eliminate Troubles
Removal of manganese and iron from the city's water supply is expected to eliminate troubles in mains, caused by clogging. The plant is further designed to keep water meters running accurately at all times.

The cost of construction is paid by the department as the work progresses.

Experts Await Opening
The new plant when opened will be watched with interest by utility experts throughout the country who are troubled with similar conditions as those existing here.

PRESENT SLUMP JUST REPETITION OF ONE IN 1921

NEWSPAPERS DEALT WITH THE SITUATION IN SIMILAR MANNER

San Francisco, Sept. 26.—(U.P.)—"Destitution, distress, bread lines, and soup kitchens in our larger cities are predicted for the coming winter, because of the unprecedented unemployment situation which the country now faces," one of the nation's leading dailies said—just ten years ago.

Newspaper readers, who have concluded that such phrases as "the depression," the "buyers' strike," a "business upturn" and the like were coined for the present economic slump might be surprised to look through the files of September newspapers for 1921, for many of the most familiar terms of 1931 business news headlines may be found in virtually all of them.

The then secretary of labor, James J. Davis, estimated that there were 5,735,000 unemployed, while economic losses to the nation for the year ending Aug. 31, 1921, were estimated to be $6,500,000. Exports were declared falling, and were said to have reached the vanishing point.

In October unemployed men were "gold" in Boston Common, while in New York hundreds of men joined the Spanish army for service in North Africa against the Moors, at 90 cents per day pay.

Then, as now, causes of the depression were apparently a mystery, with little unanimity on the question. Railroads were targets for severe criticism, freight rates often being blamed for trade decreases; the high price of steel and other building construction materials was frequently declared a fundamental cause of the depression.

President Hoover, then Secretary of Commerce in President Harding's cabinet, may well have taken the lead for his present unemployment relief campaign from steps taken by Harding in 1921.

Harding called an unemployment conference in Washington, and later appointed Col. Arthur Woods to direct a relief campaign, conducted in principle much the same as the current campaign under Walter S. Gifford.

with the suspension of the gold standard by Britain, the adequacy of such a standard as a medium for international trade is once more questioned. Senator William E. Borah, backed by Senators Smoot and McNary, has urged President Hoover to convene an international silver conference with the object of putting before the nations the feasibility of reverting either to bimetalism (gold and silver standard) or to a silver standard. They reason that as there is so little gold in the world it has no right to continue as the basis of international trade, more especially as America holds half of the world's supply. A return to the silver standard would enable nations that are now unable to do so, to do business with America. The diagram above shows how the entire amount of gold in the world is distributed.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—(U.P.)—Chief among the advocates of the silver standard are Senators Smoot, Borah, and McNary, who urge the rehabilitation of silver, reasoning that as half the population of the earth regard silver as the standard of value they are unable to buy goods in America or any other gold standard country on an equitable basis.

It was only last February that the Senate Foreign Relations Committee passed a resolution asking President Hoover to call a silver conference of governments interested in the question of a silver standard. In June Mr. Hoover let it be known that "certain governments" did not look favorably upon the result aimed at by the conference and, as their participation was essential, the matter was dropped.

It is believed that Britain was one of the "certain governments" that frowned upon the suggested conference at that time, but the straits in which she now finds herself may cause her to think differently, so there is hope that the work of Senator Borah, and his cohorts in the silver question, for an international conference will not, after all, be in vain.

International economists are loud in their condemnation of the gold standard as inadequate for international business. They insist that as long as gold continues the basis of trade and remains scarce, commodity prices are likely to remain low. In the frantic grabbing for the limited supply of precious metal, it will obviously take a large amount of rubber, cotton or wheat to obtain a small amount of gold.

Thus it would seem that if Britain turns a deaf ear to the voice of the apostles of silver, the phrase "Safe as the Bank of England" may become just a phrase.

Silver, they point out, is plentiful, so plentiful that it is practically a drug upon the market. Why then, they reason, is not international business run upon either a gold and silver standard or upon a silver standard alone?

Battaglia another chance against Cliville, but in a non-tournament match.

PHOTOGRAPH OF MISS JESSIE B. THABES PRESENTED COUNTY SOCIETY

Miss Maud Huestis, a welcome visitor at the Historical society rooms, was particularly welcome Friday afternoon, for she came in the rain, when visitors were not numerous, and she came "bearing gifts."

She has brought the society many gifts, all interesting and valuable, but none more so than this last one, in the securing of which she had the able assistance of D. E. Whitney and Dr. J. A. Thabes. The gift was a fine photograph of the doctor's sister, Miss Jessie B. Thabes, prettily framed with a copy of her poem, "Praying Mothers," as it appeared in the Dispatch recently.

With a fine philosophy Miss Thabes has utilized the hours of inactivity enforced by invalidism for the developing of a creative talent. The poem mentioned is only one of many "songs" she has written. Friends privileged to hear them speak of their lovely lyric quality, and of the inspiring optimism they express. One is reminded of the incomparable "sonnets" that took shape in Elizabeth Barrett's shut-in years; and there is something in the face of the photograph Miss Huestis has presented that is also reminiscent of the little English writer.

Miss Thabes may some day be prevailed upon to let a volume of these "songs" be printed, and so add to the pride her home town already takes in so brave and talented a daughter.

BRAINERD DEMANGANIZATION PLANT TO BE COMPLETED DEC. 1

WATER AND LIGHT DEPARTMENT MAKES SPEEDY PROGRESS

BRICKLAYERS ENGAGED IN RAISING WALLS OF $35,000 STRUCTURE HERE

Brainerd's demanganization plant, the only of its kind in the United States, was taking form today as bricklayers were engaged in laying bricks on the outer wall lining of tile.

To Cost $35,000

The new plant is destined to remove manganese and iron from the city water supply and is the result of years of study on the subject by Carl Zapffe, geologist, president of the city water and light department, who will meet the cost of the new plant, estimated at $35,000.

W. D. McKay, secretary of the department, reported today that the building will be completed by December 1 of this year.

The plant is being erected adjacent to the city pump house. When completed it will require an operator.

Will Eliminate Troubles

Removal of manganese and iron from the city's water supply is expected to eliminate troubles in mains, caused by clogging. The plant is further designed to keep water meters running accurately at all times.

The cost of construction is paid by the department as the work progresses.

Experts Await Opening

The new plant when opened will be watched with interest by utility experts throughout the country who are troubled with similar conditions as those existing here.

PRESENT SLUMP JUST REPETITION OF ONE IN 1921

NEWSPAPERS DEALT WITH THE SITUATION IN SIMILAR MANNER

Beer Versus Bonus---

The American Legion took decisive action on two most important questions at their Detroit meeting. They heeded the warning of President Hoover against placing the burden of bonus payment on the government at this time and they resolved by an overwhelming vote in favor of a referendum on beer. Men who fought in France and those who received their training in this country in order to protect the United States, are entitled to respectful consideration at any time, even at the hands of those who heartily disagree with them.

By a vote of 1,008 to 394 Legion men told the country that they want a referendum on the liquor question. If these men represent the majority in their position there should be no hesitation in granting their demand. Millions will disagree with them in their belief that beer or booze will bring relief to the country in any perceptible degree, but ardent prohibitionists, men and women who can see nothing except evil in every phase of the liquor question, must agree that there is something wrong with present conditions in connection with alcohol handling, even though they cannot agree as to a cure. Enforcement of the Eighteenth amendment is a farce in many states and every community has its own problem when it faces the liquor question. Corruption is evidenced on every hand, prices for rankest poison bearing such a huge margin of profit that bribery of law enforcement officials is looked upon as almost inevitable if vendors of the poison can but have sales opportunity without being harassed too greatly. Booze in any form is a demoralizer, but if there is a majority demand for its return then means should be provided for dispensing it legally.

Under our constitution it is almost impossible to amend so that alcohol may be returned to the country in the near future but there may be some means devised to evade the provisions of the Volstead act. Personally, we do not believe the country, as a whole, will sanction the return of liquor, but the Detroit action, showing a cross section of the country and led by men of middle age, gives pause for thought. Temperance people certainly have a bitter contest ahead of them if they expect to retain the present law without change.

A Local Question---

Figures furnished by the Railway Age, recognized authority on such subjects, show that railway stocks are now selling 19 per cent. lower than was the case during the low market of 1921. Net earnings, or rather the lack of them, has brought about this situation and there is little of cheer ahead for the men interested in railways and their earnings. Just now an increase in freight rates is being asked amounting to 15 per cent. but if the request is granted by those in power the biggest task lies ahead of railway management. This task is to convince the country that rates are not only fair, but the management must likewise convince shippers that they should use rail transportation instead of some of the other forms now operating.

A short time ago the writer conversed with a railway employee who painted a dark future for those interested in railroad stocks. This employee pointed to the competition now facing the railways in the carrying of mail via airline, freight hauling by rail as opposed to trucking, passenger traffic by bus and private cars instead of railway coaches as formerly. He referred to the fact that as compared with railways taxes on nearly all other modes of transportation were practically negligible; that while railways owned and maintained their own right of way by investment of huge sums of money, splendid highways were publicly maintained for bus, truck and private car.

The prosperity of the railroads is a local question in Brainerd, a vital one in hundreds of homes in this city. Just now the Northern Pacific shops have closed for a period of two weeks, more than a thousand men being thrown out of employment as a result. Merchants who have benefitted through the buying power of the dollars distributed in this community by the operation of the shops will suffer almost as greatly as those who actually work for the N. P. It is a time when all should stand up and be counted as friends of the railway and those so dependent upon them locally.

Debunk the Radio Program---

Dozens of letters come every day to the daily newspaper office, letters which seek to enlist the columns of the newspaper in some advertising scheme of their own without the formality of asking newspaper rates for advertising matter. The radio crowd is most active in soliciting newspaper help to put over their program and in the past too many publishers have given freely of their space to tell radio owners all about the program they are to listen to that evening or very soon. The entertainment feature of the program is the only one stressed in these requests for announcements, though nearly every radio program is devoted to business enterprises more than anything else.

Just why newspapers should give of their space to promote the business of a competitor is something for each publisher to answer to his own satisfaction. But just why radio people, who claim to have the greatest medium for placing knowledge before the public, should solicit the aid of newspapers in their efforts to get attention in their selling of merchandise can scarcely be told. Hard headed, tight fist business men are coming to a realization that most radio advertising is highly expensive, many check-ups showing that quite often the radio is virtually "short circuited" in that the message carries over a very limited distance. Even if heard the radio talk and its interpretation into terms of gain must be so swift on the part of the listener that it has little real value.

The Iowa "cow war" seems to have collapsed since soldiers appeared on the scene to protect the vets in their work. Minnesota farmers are wiser than their brothers to the south because they place no obstacles in the way of maintaining a healthy herd of dairy cattle.

Hindenburg is the greatest leader Germany has produced in this century for while his work in war was unsurpassed, his work in peace is no less praiseworthy, viewed from the standpoint of his own people. Just now Germany needs men with the strength and vision of Hindenburg.

Fort Lee, N. J., Sept. 26.—(UP)—"Two can ride as cheaply as one—can walk." That's the motto of a bus company which intends to carry persons across the new Hudson river bridge for a nickel. The toll for pedestrians will be a dime, when the bridge is opened soon.

Bartenders Flourishing

Reno, Nev., Sept. 26.—(UP)—There is one profession that may have become passe in other cities, but still flourishes in true tradition in "the biggest little city in the world." It is the profession of tending bar.

This city, with possibly 50 so-called "clubs" and night cabarets and rendezvous, is the capital and mecca for purveyors of "Mickey Fins," "Tom Collins," "Ryehighs" and all the other concoctions so dear to the memories of those who didn't care for the arrival of the eighteenth amendment.

Bartenders are drawing what amounts to union wages, too. Their earnings are increased by the extent of their popularity with the patrons who visit the various liquor establishments. In the high class establishments a good "barkeep's" salary combined with tips will run on the average of $100 to $125 a week. The lowest that any of the profession receives is about $40.

Like the butcher, the cabinet maker and the bricklayer, who learned their profession over a period of years, good bartenders with personality are hard to find.

SPEED, ALTITUDE TESTS TO BE MADE BY AKRON SOON

FOUR FLIGHTS WILL DETERMINE "GENERAL AIRWORTHINESS" OF GIANT AIRSHIP

Akron, O., Sept. 26.—(UP)—Speed and altitude tests will be made by the U. S. Akron, giant navy airship, during four trial flights scheduled to begin tomorrow night, officials of the navy board of inspection and survey announced today.

Already tested for "general airworthiness" with nearly eight hours aloft, the great scout cruiser was put through a rigid inspection in preparation for 68 additional hours of trial flying. The ship must have 75 flying hours to her credit before the navy accepts her as flagship of America's lighter-than-air fleet.

Naval inspection tests require a determination of the airship's dynamic lift—to be measured by the upward thrust of the sixteen foot propellers—fuel consumption, interior ventilation and pressure equalization. The Akron, which carried 13,200 gallons of gasoline, has a cruising radius of over 10,000 miles. Her eight 560-horsepower engines will drive her through the air at a maximum speed of 83.9 miles an hour, Goodyear-Zeppelin corporation officials said.

CHAPTER LIII.

DR. MATHEWS turned to Margaret.

"It's time," he said, "that Travers decided things for himself. You can't hinder him; you must not. If this contemplated marriage is not to your liking, Margaret, it is up to you to make the best of it. You've never failed Travers. Don't fail him now. And—"

"But it has been so long," she wailed. "He doesn't know her, nor she him! And they do not love each other!"

It had, been said. Lorrimer paled, set his square jaw more firmly, said simply, "I loved her once—"

But he didn't love her now. He never would. He was in love with her as she once had been, but more in love with Mary Lou's artistic conception of Delight Harford. He knew as clearly as he had ever known anything, that Delight had never existed, save in his imagination, apart from Mary Lou's playing of her role. And with that play-acting he was deeply in love—still; even though he knew it for what it was, drama, comedy, even farce. As for the girl herself—this suddenly unknown girl with the little name, strange to him—how much of her was genuine, how much that inspired acting? He remembered all sorts of things now; situations from which she had cleverly extricated herself, evasions.

He'd have to find her. Have it out with her. Thank her, perhaps, for all she'd done. But this was glossing over of his real motive. He'd have to find her, see her as she was, look into the eyes which had seemed so honest, so much his own, and try to discover there how much of her was real.

An Obligation.

But as far as the woman upstairs was concerned—a woman equally unknown—he was committed, body and soul. If she'd have him, he was hers—with reservations. His name would be hers and his possessions and his loyalty. He wondered how much of that loyalty would be technical. But he owed it to her.

Mathews was talking to Margaret of Mary Lou.

"Where has she gone?" he was asking. "She mustn't be allowed to go like this—vanish like a changeling."

That's what she was, thought Lorrimer, a changeling. "Perhaps," Margaret said, "she has gone to Oakdale. I will try to get in touch with her. I'll telephone. No she mustn't be allowed to go like this."

"You are angry with her," stated rather than asked the doctor.

"Yes. No. I was. Terribly. She'd promised me—silence. And she didn't keep that promise. But I see a little more clearly now. She did what she thought was right. It wasn't her fault if her plan went astray. And I suppose she had to follow her star if what she thought right conflicted with her loyalty to me."

"There's a virtue in that," remarked Mathews. "For she cares for you, I believe, very deeply. Only a really courageous person would be willing to risk the anger and misunderstanding of some one she cares for in order to preserve her moral integrity." He wanted to add "and not only risk the anger of a beloved, but her entire happiness as well."

It hadn't even been just a risk with Mary Lou, but a certainty. Yes. She had courage. And Lorrimer, too. For Lorrimer also however mistakenly it appeared to the older, wiser man, was following his own star.

Gifts of Love.

Margaret went upstairs and into Mary Lou's room and sat there for a long time looking at evidences of her departure. Looking at the clothes hung in the closet, each in Gram answered, and she was careful not to startle the old lady, merely telling her name and asking if Mary Lou were there. Upon Gram's immediate and excited denial—"Was she coming out?" Gram demanded—Mrs. Lorrimer said only that Mary Lou had gone to town and as she hadn't known her plans and wanted to get in touch with her, she had tried Oakdale first. She remembered, very carefully, to ask for Adelaide and Billy—for she had grown to know them through Mary Lou's vivid description.

She replaced the telephone and went downstairs.

Mathews had been talking to Lorrimer.

its fragrant enclosure of chintz; at the shoes in their built-in places, and the bureau, covered with all her small belongings, the things Margaret had given her.

The gorgeous fur coat was in its place. She recalled telling Mary Lou it was time to send it to storage; the sable scarf was there; and on the bureau the wrist watch Margaret had given her. On Margaret's own finger, put there in abstraction and forgotten, was Lorrimer's sapphire ring, blue and clear and deep as Mary Lou's own eyes.

She'd taken nothing but a few of the things, long since discarded, she'd brought with her originally, the dress on her back, a hat and nightgown, slippers and the plainest of her negligees. Her books were there. Only, of her more personal belongings, some pictures of her people, kept in a desk drawer, were missing.

Yet everything here belonged to her; had been given her, out of love, out of disinterested affection, no longer as part of her "salary" but as her due as a virtual daughter of the house.

Margaret picked up the telephone book and, in Mary Lou's sitting room, she called Oakdale.

Honesty Personified.

"I don't hate her," Lorrimer burst out. "I wish to heaven I did. But she—Oh, it's all so mixed—how much was real?" he demanded, "how much was false?"

"The girl was real," said Mathews, "the situation false. Don't think it didn't give her sleepless nights, the most honest person I've ever had the luck to meet! Every thought, every word she said was honest. She was honest even in the part she played. Try and believe that."

"Perhaps," said Lorrimer slowly, "I'd better not."

Beer Versus Bonus---

The American Legion took decisive action on two most important questions at their Detroit meeting. They heeded the warning of President Hoover against placing the burden of bonus payment on the government at this time and they resolved by an overwhelming vote in favor of a referendum on beer. Men who fought in France and those who received their training in this country in order to protect the United States, are entitled to respectful consideration at any time, even at the hands of those who heartily disagree with them.

By a vote of 1,008 to 394 Legion men told the country that they want a referendum on the liquor question. If these men represent the majority in their position there should be no hesitancy in granting their demand. Millions will disagree with them in their belief that beer or booze will bring relief to the country in any perceptible degree, but ardent prohibitionists, men and women who can see nothing except evil in every phase of the liquor question, must agree that there is something wrong with present conditions in connection with alcohol handling, even though they cannot agree as to a cure. Enforcement of the Eighteenth amendment is a farce in many states and every community has its own problem when it faces the liquor question. Corruption is evidenced on every hand, prices for rankst poison bearing such a huge margin of profit that bribery of law enforcement officials is looked upon as almost inevitable if vendors of the poison can but have sales opportunity without being harassed too greatly. Booze in any form is a demoralizer, but if there is a majority demand for its return then means should be provided for dispensing it legally.

Under our constitution it is almost impossible to amend so that alcohol may be returned to the country in the near future but there may be some means devised to evade the provisions of the Volstead act. Personally, we do not believe the country, as a whole, will sanction the return of liquor, but the Detroit action, showing a cross section of the country and led by men of middle age, gives pause for thought. Temperance people certainly have a bitter contest ahead of them if they expect to retain the present law without change.

A Local Question---

Figures furnished by the Railway Age, recognized authority on such subjects, show that railway stocks are now selling 19 per cent. lower than was the case during the low market of 1921. Net earnings, or rather the lack of them, has brought about this situation and there is little of cheer ahead for the men interested in railways and their earnings. Just now an increase in freight rates is being asked amounting to 15 per cent. but if the request is granted by those in power the biggest task lies ahead of railway management. This task is to convince the country that rates are not only fair, but the management must likewise convince shippers that they should use rail transportation instead of some of the other forms now operating.

A short time ago the writer conversed with a railway employee who painted a dark future for those interested in railroad stocks. This employee pointed to the competition now facing the railways in the carrying of mail via airline, freight hauling by rail as opposed to trucking, passenger traffic by bus and private cars instead of railway coaches as formerly. He referred to the fact that as compared with railways taxes on nearly all other modes of transportation were practically negligible; that while railways owned and maintained their own right of way by investment of huge sums of money, splendid highways were publicly maintained for bus, truck and private car.

The prosperity of the railroads is a local question in Brainerd, a vital one in hundreds of homes in this city. Just now the Northern Pacific shops have closed for a period of two weeks, more than a thousand men being thrown out of employment as a result. Merchants who have benefitted through the buying power of the dollars distributed in this community by the operation of the shops will suffer almost as greatly as those who actually work for the N. P. It is a time when all should stand up and be counted as friends of the railway and those so dependent upon them locally.

Debunk the Radio Program---

Dozens of letters come every day to the daily newspaper office, letters which seek to enlist the columns of the newspaper in some advertising scheme of their own without the formality of asking newspaper rates for advertising matter. The radio crowd is most active in soliciting newspaper help to put over their program and in the past too many publishers have given freely of their space to tell radio owners all about the program they are to listen to that evening or very soon. The entertainment feature of the program is the only one stressed in these requests for announcements, though nearly every radio program is devoted to business enterprises more than anything else.

But just why radio people, who claim to have the greatest medium for placing knowledge before the public, should solicit the aid of newspapers in their efforts to get attention in their selling of merchandise can scarcely be told. INSTALL CATCH BASINS; GROUND WIRES IN ALLEYS

TWO CITY DEPARTMENTS PLAN NECESSARY IMPROVEMENTS BEFORE PAVING

Two city departments were active today doing departmental work necessary before the paving of Brainerd downtown alleys can be started.

City Engineer R. T. Campbell supervised the laying of a drain in the alley near the Brainerd Laundry building. Six catch basins will be installed in the alleys at a cost of $150 the early part of next week. The regular street crew is used for the work.

The Water and Light Department also made plans for the placing of transmission power lines underground. Poles, however, will be necessary to support transformers lowering the voltage from 2300 volts to 110 volts for downtown use.

Meanwhile Thompson Bros. Concrete Works ordered supplies and made final plans for the starting of the paving expected about the middle of next week.

INSTALL CATCH BASINS; GROUND WIRES IN ALLEYS

TWO CITY DEPARTMENTS PLAN NECESSARY IMPROVEMENTS BEFORE PAVING

Two city departments were active today doing departmental work necessary before the paving of Brainerd downtown alleys can be started.

City Engineer R. T. Campbell supervised the laying of a drain in the alley near the Brainerd Laundry building. Six catch basins will be installed in the alleys at a cost of $150 the early part of next week. The regular street crew is used for the work.

The Water and Light Department also made plans for the placing of transmission power lines underground. Poles, however, will be necessary to support transformers lowering the voltage from 2300 volts to 110 volts for downtown use.

Meanwhile Thompson Bros. Concrete Works ordered supplies and made final plans for the starting of the paving expected about the middle of next week.

EARLY ATTACK OF FOE SQUELCHED BY PASS COMBINATION

LOCAL ELEVEN PUSHES OVER 3 TOUCHDOWNS IN SECOND HALF TO TAKE OFFENSE

The old oaken bucket or for whatever mythical symbol old high school football rivals play for in this section hung in a well in our own back yard today following Brainerd's 25 to 7 victory Friday over the Schermack schooled Wadena eleven.

Turns Breaks Into Touchdowns

It was simply Brainerd's alertness and ability to take advantage of the breaks that catapulted the local outfit off to an auspicious start on the season's schedule. The inaugural triumph also served in no small measure to blot out the memory of last year's scoreless tie for the Damman and Taylor coached lads.

Typical of the first game of the season, both teams played ragged football. The elements, which altogether were not too conducive to good football, also played havoc with the aerial attacks of both teams although Brainerd annexed several of its touchdowns via the air through the patter of rain.

To launch into a narrative of the possible potency of the Brainerd attack and the power of its defense would be folly. The first game can never be construed as a criterion of strength. Neither can it give any indication of possibilities.

Although it was obvious that Brainerd lacked a defensive polish and a feeble running attack, there were numerous spurts of encouragement in the way of occasional flashes of form by several newcomers in the 1931 edition of a Brainerd eleven. To say that the team indicated potential offensive skill rests entirely with an aerial attack that Wadena had trouble solving. But, the battering attack and running plays were rather weak gestures, and yet, when a finesse is mastered through more time Brainerd shows possibilities of developing into a formidable eleven.

Played to a standstill throughout the first half, Brainerd came back with a vengeance in the second stanza. Not an opportunity escaped the Damman-Taylor lads and they conveniently turned several bad Wadena breaks into touchdowns for a comfortable margin of victory.

The same several hundred fans that love football as played by high school eleven and who are loyal to their home team had not had time to notice the disagreeable rain when Brainerd made its first threat at the Wadena goal. Wadena fumbled the kickoff and Brainerd recovered. Several line plays failed to pick up substantial yardage and Brainerd lost the ball on downs on Wadena's 15 yard line.

Wadena got off a bad punt, Templeton of Brainerd taking it on the 35 yard line. After a pass Gabiou to Wygle netted some 20 yards, Brainerd again lost the ball. An exchange of punts gave the local lads the ball on Wadena's 25 yard line. Foster skirted right end for 22 yards after shaking off a half dozen erstwhile Wadena tacklers. The next play he carried it over for first blood. Try by pass failed for extra point. Score Brainerd 6, Wadena 0.

Unleashing a concerted running and lateral passing attack, Wadena with Johnson and Jung alternating in carrying the ball tore the Brainerd line to shreds for six first downs. Johnson then carried it over to knot the count at 6 all. Jung smashed the line for the marginal point.

A see-saw battle developed in the second quarter, play centering in mid-field practically throughout the stanza although Wadena threatened Brainerd's goal twice only to be repulsed because of fumbles. Templeton discouraged one Wadena threat when he collected in a fumble after a Wadena receiver had juggled the pass.

It might have been the persuasiveness of Coaches Damman and Taylor but it was a new outfit that took the field for Brainerd in the second half. They showed a determination and a fighting spirit to block three Wadena punts in as many attempts.

Taking the ball on Wadena's 15 yard line, Foster cracked the line for six yards. Gabiou then hurled a pass to Swanson who carted it over for 12 to 7. Bob Wygle's dropkick failed to take elevation and the extra point was lost as the third quarter ended.

About this time, Johnson, slippery little Wadena halfback, froze Brainerd fans by slipping off right tackle for 30 yards. It was Wadena's last threat although a bad pass from center on an attempted punt put Brainerd in a bad spot. Foster, however, on the next down got off a good kick. Wadena immediately launched into a desperate passing assault, but Foster cut it short by pulling a Wadena claimed spheroid out of the air and racing away to put Brainerd in a position to chalk up a third touchdown.

Try for extra point was successful. Another pass Gabiou to Wygle just before the whistle sounded boosted Brainerd's score to 25 to 7.

There is no question but what Gabiou, the Wygle brothers, Foster, Templeton, Swanson and, even young Garvey who is playing his first season at center, will develop into players of starring caliber. In fact, they looked like the goods in Friday's game.

Johnson and Jung carried the brunt of the attack for Wadena. The line play of Currie and Miller also looked good.

SENATORS' LEAD CUT BY YANKS IN SECOND OF SERIES

RUNNERUP PLACE IN AMERICAN LEAGUE AT STAKE IN TODAY'S GAME

New York, Sept. 26.—(UP)—Second place in the American league was at stake today as the New York Yankees and Washington Senators met in the concluding doubleheader of their four-game series.

Trailing the Senators by ½ game and scheduled to meet the champion Philadelphia Athletics in their final game tomorrow while the Senators meet Boston, the Yankees were faced with the necessity of winning both of today's game to nose out Washington for the coveted berth. A double victory for either team today will assure the winner of second place.

The Yankees clipped a full game off the Senators lead yesterday by whipping Walter Johnson's charges, 8 to 2. Babe Ruth led the Yankees attack with two homers and passed his teammate Lou Gehrig in the race for the major league home run championship. Pennock and Combs also hit homers for New York but Lou Gehrig was held hitless and now is one behind Ruth in the homer race with 45.

Only one other game was played in the major leagues yesterday, with Philadelphia's world champions defeating Boston, 7 to 1. Louis Krauss, 18-year-old pitcher, who joined the Athletics this spring direct from the Media, Pa., high school team, held the Red Sox to four hits.

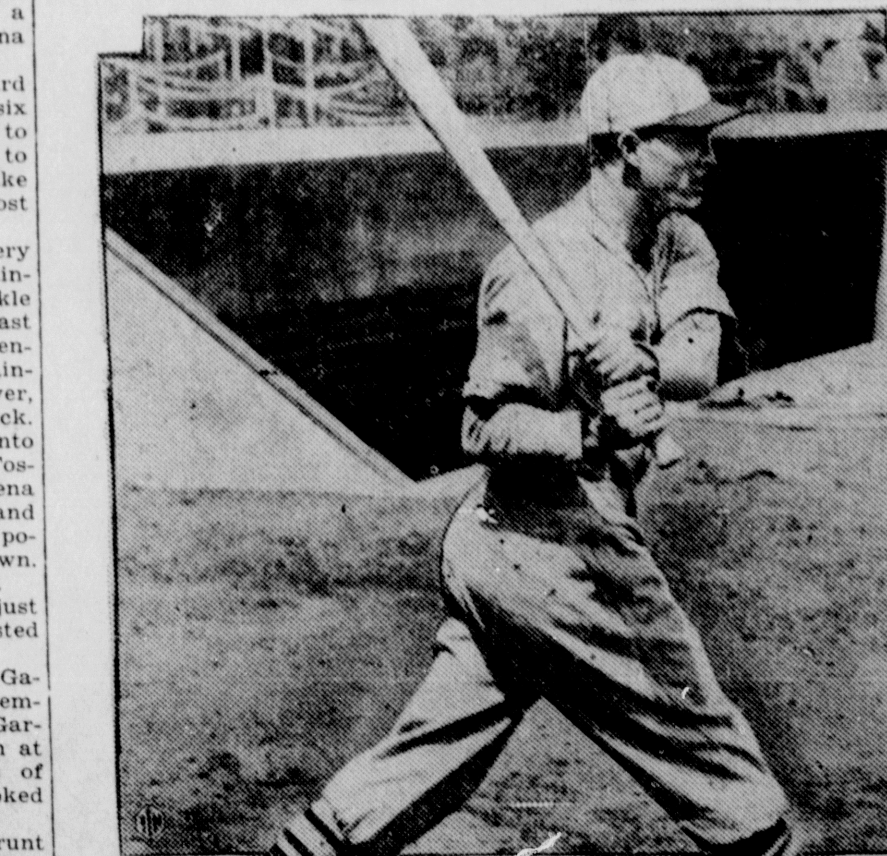

Oakland, Calif., Sept. 26.—(UP)—William Maher, 20-year-old fullback of Oakland high school, died in a hospital here today of a broken neck, the first victim of a major football accident in the Bay region this season.

Playing against Fremont high school yesterday, Maher gave no indication he was injured until he collapsed at the end of the second quarter. At the hospital it was found he had suffered a broken vertebra and he died a few hours later. His team won, 26 to 0.

GOPHERS RATED SEVENTH IN POLL OF SPORTS WRITERS

MICHIGAN PLACED IN RUNNER- UP POSITION WITH PURDUE IN THE THIRD RUNG

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
Chicago, Sept. 26.—(UP)—Northwestern again is favored to win the Big Ten football championship, the annual United Press poll of middle-western sports writers revealed today.

Northwestern was undefeated in the Big Ten last year and tied with Michigan for the title. Michigan is picked to finish second and Purdue, 1929 champion, third.

The order of finish is predicted as follows:

- 1—Northwestern.
- 2—Michigan.
- 3—Purdue.
- 4—Illinois.
- 5—Ohio State.
- 6—Wisconsin.
- 7—Minnesota.
- 8—Iowa.
- 9—Indiana.
- 10—Chicago.

The consensus was based on the selections of the following: Eddie Jacquelin, Champaign News Gazette; Chas. Johnson, Minneapolis Star; Lew Byer, Columbus Citizen; Bert McGraw, Des Moines Register and Tribune; Roundy Coughlin, Wisconsin State Journal; Oliver Kuehse, Milwaukee Journal; Dick Cullum, Minneapolis Journal; Eddie Ash, Indianapolis Times; Henry J. McCormick, Wisconsin State Journal; Wilfred Smith, Chicago Tribune; Ralph Cannon, Chicago Daily News; and the writer.

The three favorites do not play each other and many of the writers believe the race will end in a double or triple tie. Three writers picked Northwestern, Michigan and Purdue all to come through undefeated, while three others picked Northwestern to tie with either Michigan or Purdue.

Michigan was picked by three writers to win the title outright, but four others relegated the Wolverines to third place which prevented them from winning the consensus. Northwestern was picked by two writers to win the title without dispute and Purdue was picked by one.

With one vote counting for first place, two for second, three for third, etc., the final standing was: Northwestern, 20½; Michigan, 24½; Purdue, 28; Illinois, 63½; Ohio State, 65; Wisconsin, 69½; Minnesota, 72½; Iowa, 101½; Indiana, 104; Chicago, 111.

O'Kelly Whipped as Daniels Starts Comeback

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 26.—(UP)—Dick Daniels, Minneapolis heavyweight started a new comeback attempt last night with a victory over Con O'Kelly of Boston in 10 rounds. Daniels weighed 182½, and O'Kelly 194.

Daniels scored on O'Kelly's head and mid-section at will throughout the 10 rounds and in two rounds had the Bostonian reeling from savage punches. Daniels tried desperately to knock out O'Kelly, but the plump, busy O'Kelly was able to withstand everything sent his way.

Walter Wohlwend, Lake City athlete, savagely pounded his way to a six-round victory over the veteran Mike Mandell of St. Paul. Mandell scaled 187 pounds and Wohlwend 173½. Wohlwend had Mandell groggy in the sixth round of their fight when the "Iron Mike" took a count of nine, but the Lake City fighter was too tired to finish the tough Mandell.

COLORFUL STAFF TO COVER SERIES FOR THE DISPATCH

EXPERT MEMBERS OF UNITED PRESS PERSONNEL TO WRITE CLASSIC FOR READERS

The 1931 world championship baseball series between the Philadelphia Athletics and the St. Louis Cardinals will be covered completely and colorfully for the Daily Dispatch by expert writers from the staff of the United Press.

Trained baseball reporters will tell the technical stories of the games and give accurate analysis of the history-making plays. Feature writers, looking to the color of this annual sporting event, will give vivid description of the scenes and the human interest events.

L. S. Cameron, United Press sports editor, will have charge of the staffs at both St. Louis and Philadelphia.

At St. Louis, George Kirksey, mid-west sports authority and a close follower of Gabby Street's famous team, and Ted Lewis, feature writer of the St. Louis staff, will assist Cameron.

At Philadelphia, Henry McElmore, grand marshal of "the sports parade," whose sparkling stories are carried daily, and H. Allen Smith, feature writer of the New York staff, have been assigned to aid Cameron.

The staffs of the Philadelphia and St. Louis offices will support these writers in giving a fast, complete and wholly "human" coverage of the series, transmitted to client newspapers on a nation-wide hookup directly from the baseball playing fields.

On the Sidelines

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 26.—(UP)—The Illinois varsity had a practice game scheduled today with the freshman team. Coach Zupke's first team line-up follows: Frink and Schustek, ends; Jackson and Glick, tackles; Jensen and Gorenstein, guards; Murray, center; Horsley, quarterback; Berry and Cook, halfbacks; Schultz, fullback.

Evanston, Ill., Sept. 26.—(UP)—After a short scrimmage with the freshman team in the morning, Northwestern university football players were to travel to Stagg field to see Chicago play Cornell and Hillsdale colleges. Half a dozen players are handicapped by minor injuries.

Columbus, O., Sept. 26.—(UP)—Ohio State's backfield has been given a shaking up by Coach Sam Willaman as a result of an injury to Joe Benis, quarterback. Benis has a torn collarbone ligament and will probably be out for a month. Cramer and Keefe were tried at halfbacks yesterday.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 26.—(UP)—The battle for backfield berths on the Michigan team is becoming closer each day. Coach Kipke has a dozen stellar backs and is having a hard time picking his first quartet. Jack Heston continues to press his former high school teammate Stanley Fay for a halfback berth.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 26.—(UP)—Wisconsin had a hard scrimmage scheduled today with the outcome likely to temporarily settle the first team. Buckets Goldenberg, quarterback, who reported two days ago, will remain with the fourth team until he reduces his weight about 10 pounds. He now weighs 207.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 26.—(UP)—Coach Noble Kizer expected to start the Purdue regulars against the freshmen in today's game. He will, however, probably use three or four teams during the game.

ST. THOMAS EKES OUT VICTORY OVER STUBBORN RIVAL

MOORHEAD STATE TEACHERS DROP 7 TO 6 GAME AFTER LOSING BREAKS

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 26.—(UP)—Balked by a slippery field, the fast breaking St. Thomas college running attack failed to make headway against a stubborn Moorhead State Teachers college team last night but with the aid of four major breaks was able to eke out a 7 to 6 victory.

The Moorhead Dragons showed a marked superiority over St. Thomas during the second half, bewildering the Tommies with long forward passes and heavy gains around and through right side of the Tommy line. St. Thomas scored in the second quarter on a running pass from Jack O'Halloran to Joe Marter. Captain Fitzharris missed the goal kick for St. Thomas but his left end was off-side. Moorhead chose to take an off-side penalty, thereby giving St. Thomas another try for the goal kick. The second kick was successful.

Twice Moorhead touchdowns were called back. On the play after the touchdown, Davis, Dragon back, took the kickoff 85 yards through the entire Tommy team across the goal line. The play was called back, however, as Davis stepped on the sideline during his run.

A series of passes and runs gave Moorhead its touchdown in the third quarter with Robinson scoring. Robinson attempted to convert for the extra point with line buck but was stopped.

In the last few minutes of the game the Dragons worked the ball within

TO KEEP his job, a baseball manager must produce winning teams though, some wags have it, the St. Louis Cardinals used to practically reverse that tradition. Above the managers are the owners of the team, and frequently their relatives or chums in official club capacities. They really pull the strings and, when the fans clamor over defeats, they make a change regardless of whether it is their manager or their economy or just poor luck that is really responsible for the team's reverses. As each season runs into its final months, the dope on doomed managers begins to crop up. This year is no exception to that rule; indeed, the anticipated "fired" list is longer than usual.

Poor ol' "Uncle Robby" — his Brooklyn Robins floundered so badly at the season's start that false rumor had a petition of 25,000 fans circulating asking for his summary removal. Then this team made a fine winning spurt. All seemed forgiven until the Robins again floundered and flopped. There is a faction in the Brooklyn club long at odds with "Robby" and—he may have to pay his way into Ebbets' Field next year.

Pittsburgh is likely to drop Jewel Ems but some there are who say that, if the Pirates finish strong, his decapitation will be called off. "Bucky" Harris, of the Detroit Tigers, is in the same turn but though he seems to have more support than Ems. Dan Howley, of the Cincinnati Reds, is another who's on the same critical spot. Although Chicago fans are clamoring for Hornsby's head as a result of the poor showing of the Chicago Cubs, the "Rajah" has the support of President Veeck and will continue as pilot for next season also.

As to the luckier fellows, Joe McCarthy, of the N. Y. Yanks, is judged as having done well for his first season in the American League. In that organization, Walter Johnson has stepped up to the Washington Senators and Bill Killifer, the St. Louis Browns, in pleasing style. Of course, Connie Mack, John McGraw and Sergt. "Cack" Street are fixtures even though the latter will be worried if the Cards flop again in the World Series.

The three favorites do not play each other and many of the writers believe the race will end in a double or triple tie. Three writers picked Northwestern, Michigan and Purdue all to come through undefeated, while three others picked Northwestern to tie with either Michigan or Purdue.

Michigan was picked by three writers to win the title outright, but four others relegated the Wolverines to third place which prevented them from winning the consensus. Northwestern was picked by two writers to win the title without dispute and Purdue was picked by one.

With one vote counting for first place, two for second, three for third, etc., the final standing was: Northwestern, 20½; Michigan, 24½; Purdue, 28; Illinois, 63½; Ohio State, 65; Wisconsin, 69½; Minnesota, 72½; Iowa, 101½; Indiana, 104; Chicago, 111.

O'Kelly Whipped as Daniels Starts Comeback

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 26. — (UP) — Dick Daniels, Minneapolis heavyweight started a new comeback attempt last night with a victory over Con O'Kelly of Boston in 10 rounds. Daniels weighed 182½ and O'Kelly 194.

Daniels scored on O'Kelly's head and mid section at will throughout the 10 rounds and in two rounds had the Bostonian reeling from savage punches. Daniels tried desperately to knock out O'Kelly, but the plump, busy O'Kelly was able to withstand everything sent his way.

Walter Wohlwend, Lake City athlete, savagely pounded his way to a six-round victory over the veteran Mike Mandell of St. Paul. Mandell scaled 187 pounds and Wohlwend 173½. Wohlwend had Mandell groggy in the sixth round of their fight when the "Iron Mike" took a count of nine, but the Lake City fighter was too tired to finish the tough Mandell.

COLORFUL STAFF TO COVER SERIES FOR THE DISPATCH

EXPERT MEMBERS OF UNITED PRESS PERSONNEL TO WRITE CLASSIC FOR READERS

The 1931 world championship baseball series between the Philadelphia Athletics and the St. Louis Cardinals will be covered completely and colorfully for the Daily Dispatch by expert writers from the staff of the United Press.

Trained baseball reporters will tell the technical stories of the games and give accurate analysis of the history-making plays. Feature writers, looking to the color of this annual sporting event, will give vivid description of the scenes and the human interest events.

L. S. Cameron, United Press sports editor, will have charge of the staffs at both St. Louis and Philadelphia. At St. Louis, George Kirksey, mid-west sports authority and a close follower of Gabby Street's famous team, and Ted Lewis, feature writer of the St. Louis staff, will assist Cameron.

At Philadelphia, Henry McLenore, grand marshal of "the sports parade," whose sparkling stories are carried daily, and H. Allen Smith, feature writer of the New York staff, have been assigned to aid Cameron.

The staffs of the Philadelphia and St. Louis offices will support these writers in giving a fast, complete and wholly "human" coverage of the series, transmitted to client newspapers on a nation-wide hookup directly from the baseball playing fields.

On the Sidelines

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 26. — (UP) — The Illinois varsity had a practice game scheduled today with the freshman team. Coach Zuppke's first team line-up follows: Frink and Schustek, ends; Jackson and Glick, tackles; Jensen and Covenstein, guards; Murray, center; Horsley, quarterback; Berry and Cook, halfbacks; Schultz, fullback.

Evanston, Ill., Sept. 26. — (UP) — After a short scrimmage with the freshman team in the morning, Northwestern university football players were to travel to Stag field to see Chicago play Cornell and Hillsdale colleges. Half a dozen players are handicapped by minor injuries.

Columbus, O., Sept. 26. — (UP) — Ohio State's backfield has been given a shaking up by Coach Sam Willaman as a result of an injury to Joe Benis, quarterback. Benis has a torn collarbone ligament and will probably be out for a month. Cramer and Keefe were tried at halfbacks yesterday.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 26. — (UP) — The battle for backfield berths on the Michigan team is becoming closer each day. Coach Kipke has a dozen stellar backs and is having a hard time picking his first quartet. Jack Heston continues to press his former high school teammate Stanley Fay for a halfback berth.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 26. — (UP) — Wisconsin had a hard scrimmage scheduled today with the outcome likely to temporarily settle the first team. Buckets Goldenberg, quarterback, who reported two days ago, will remain with the fourth team until he reduces his weight about 10 pounds. He now weighs 207.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 26. — (UP) — Coach Noble Kizer expected to start the Purdue regulars against the freshmen in today's game. He will, however, probably use three or four teams during the game.

ST. THOMAS EKES OUT VICTORY OVER STUBBORN RIVAL

MOORHEAD STATE TEACHERS DROP 7 TO 6 GAME AFTER LOSING BREAKS

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 26. — (UP) — Bailed by a slippery field, the fast-breaking St. Thomas college running attack failed to make headway against a stubborn Moorhead State Teachers college team last night but with the aid of four major breaks was able to eke out a 7 to 6 victory.

The Moorhead Dragons showed a marked superiority over St. Thomas during the second half, bewildering the Tommies with long forward passes and heavy gains around and through right side of the Tommy line. St. Thomas scored in the second quarter on a running pass from Jack O'Halloran to Joe Marter. Captain Fitzharris missed the goal kick for St. Thomas but his left end was off-side. Moorhead chose to take an off-side penalty, thereby giving St. Thomas another try for the goal kick. The second kick was successful.

Twice Moorhead touchdowns were called back. On the play after the touchdown, Davis, Dragon back, took the kickoff 85 yards through the entire Tommy team across the goal line. The play was called back, however, as Davis stepped on the sideline during his run.

A series of passes and runs gave Moorhead its touchdown in the third quarter with Robinson scoring. Robinson attempted to convert for the extra point with line buck but was stopped.

In the last few minutes of the game the Dragons worked the ball within

"All Set for the Gate"

By HARDIN BURNLEY

TO KEEP his job, a baseball manager must produce winning teams though, some ways have it, the St. Louis Cardinals used to practically reverse that tradition. Above the managers are the owners of the team, and frequently their relatives or chums in official club capacities. They really pull the strings and, when the fans clamor over defeats, they make a change regardless of whether it is their manager or their economy or just poor luck that is really responsible for the team's reverses. As each season runs into its final months, the dope on doomed managers begins to crop up. This year is no exception to that rule; indeed, the anticipated "fired" list is longer than usual.

Poor ol' "Uncle Robby" — his Brooklyn Robins floundered so badly at the season's start that false rumor had a petition of 25,000 fans circulating asking for his summary removal. Then this team made a fine winning spurt. All seemed forgiven until the Robins again floundered and flopped. There is a faction in the Brooklyn club long at odds with "Robby" and—he may have to pay his way into Ebbets' Field next year.

Pittsburgh is likely to drop Jewel Ens but some there are who say that, if the Pirates finish strong, his decapitation will be called off. "Bucky" Harris, of the Detroit Tigers, is in the same tangle though he seems to have more support than Ens. Dan Howley, of the Cincinnati Reds, is another who's on the same critical spot. Although Chicago fans are clamoring for Hornsby's head as a result of the poor showing of the Chicago Cubs, the "Rajah" has the support of President Veeck and will continue as pilot for next season also.

As to the luckier fellows, Joe McCarthy, of the N. Y. Yanks, is judged as having done well for his first season in the American League. In that organization, Walter Johnson has stepped up to the Washington Senators and Bill Killifer, the St. Louis Browns, in pleasing style. Of course, Connie Mack, John McGraw and Sergt. "Gabby" Street are fixtures even though the latter will be worried if the Cards flop again in the World Series.

The annual poster contest for convention advertising purposes will be conducted again this year in advance of the Ninth Annual convention of The Minnesota Congress of Parents and Teachers at Brainerd, October 19, 20 and 21. It was announced today by the local publicity committee.

Posters must be exhibited at least two weeks before the opening of the convention in the community in which the poster is made. Several posters may be exhibited in each community, but only one may be sent by an association to the state convention to enter the contest.

The judging will be based upon the following points: Originality of design, distance legibility and general appearance.

The rules are:
All posters must be uniform in size, 16 inches by 24 inches.

All posters must contain the following lettering only: "Minnesota Congress of Parents and Teachers; CONVENTION; Brainerd, Minnesota; October 19, 20, 21, 1931; Informational, Educational, Inspirational."

Name of association, city or town, name of publicity chairman with address, and dates locally exhibited must be plainly written on back of poster.

Contest closes Thursday, October 15. All posters must be sent to the state publicity chairman, at Brainerd, by the morning of October 17; judging of posters will take place the morning of October 19. Announcement of the winning posters will be made during the afternoon session.

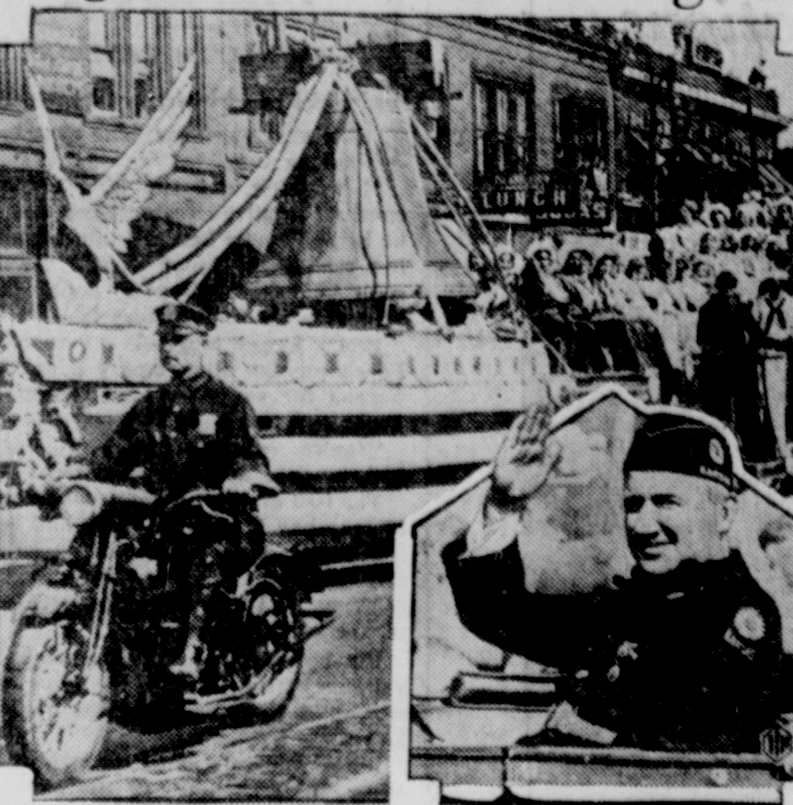

As usual, all posters will become a part of an exhibit at publicity headquarters during the convention and three honors will be awarded.

Students in the Lincoln, Lowell, Harrison, Whittier and Washington buildings who are interested in the poster contest will receive instructions and make their posters at the Washington high school under the supervision of Miss Madge True, city art instructor.

Three Brainerd judges will be selected to conduct local judging.

Legion Hosts March Again

As in other years that have witnessed conventions of the American Legion, the hosts of war veterans paraded to the martial airs of many bands and the resounding cheers of thousands of onlookers when the former soldiers and sailors strutted their stuff through Detroit streets. Bandits Terrorize 10 Employees in Robbery

Westmont, Ill., Sept. 26.—(UP)—Four bandits terrorized 10 employees and customers in the First State Bank of Westmont today, slugged a bank clerk with a pistol butt and escaped with $10,000 they scooped from the cashier's cage and the vault.

Everyone in the bank was ordered to lie on the floor as the robbers entered. One bank clerk failed to comply quickly and was hit on the head.

Sheriff John F. Hesterman of Page county ordered 30 deputies to start patrolling the highways in search of the sedan bearing Illinois license 1330906 in which the bandits escaped. The car had been stolen from Dr. Herman Reinach, Chicago.

California Stars Drive to Repeal Law

San Francisco, Sept. 26.—(UP)—An intensive drive for repeal of California's criminal syndicalism law through a state referendum is in progress under the direction of a "State Committee for the Repeal of the Criminal Syndicalism Law," with headquarters in this city.

The organization announced that 30,000 signatures have been obtained to a petition to place a repeal proposition on the ballot. By December, the required date, it will be necessary to have 111,000 signatures if the repeal is to be voted on.

Indorsement of the fight against the law has been voted by unions representing thousands of laborers. The law was "designed to intimidate and break the labor movement," a statement by the committee charged.

Brewery Head Indicates Readiness to Operate

Milwaukee, Sept. 25.—(UP)—If the manufacture of four per cent beer were legalized, the Pabst Corporation of Milwaukee would need 1,000,000 bushels of barley immediately to operate its brewery, Fred Pabst, Sr., president, said today.

That much barley would cost slightly less than $500,000 at present prices, Pabst said.

The brewer said that the nation's breweries would have to have at least 60,000,000 bushels of barley immediately if congress were to legalize the manufacture of real beer.

Slip Madigan
COACH OF THE GREAT
ST. MARY'S ELEVEN WHICH PLAYS
SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA THIS WEEK IN THE FIRST GAME OF THE SEASON!

AMONG the topless towers of West Coast football talent—Southern California, Stanford, California, Washington State, Oregon and others—St. Mary's seems a dwarf in size but, under Edward P. ("Slip") Madigan's inspired coaching, the Saints are known to many fans and critics as "the toughest of teams."

For several seasons the eleven from this little college have battled grid giants to standstill time and again, and have beaten the large majority of their opponents.

This Saturday St. Mary's tackles Southern California. What a melee that should be between Madigan's mighty men and Howard Jones' Trojan hosts! It's an opening game, too—a fit start, it would seem, for the so-called "toughest team in the country." Of course, the huge U. S. C. machine should overpower the "Galloping Gaels," but an upset is possible.

HERE: JUDGING TO TAKE PLACE OCT. 19

The annual poster contest for convention advertising purposes will be conducted again this year in advance of the Ninth Annual convention of The Minnesota Congress of Parents and Teachers at Brainerd, October 19, 20 and 21. It was announced today by the local publicity committee.

Posters must be exhibited at least two weeks before the opening of the convention in the community in which the poster is made. Several posters may be exhibited in each community, but only one may be sent by an association to the state convention to enter the contest.

The judging will be based upon the following points: Originality of design, distance legibility and general appearance.

The rules are:
All posters must be uniform in size, 16 inches by 24 inches.

All posters must contain the following lettering only: "Minnesota Congress of Parents and Teachers; CONVENTION; Brainerd, Minnesota; October 19, 20, 21, 1931; Informational, Educational, Inspirational."

Name of association, city or town, name of publicity chairman with address, and dates locally exhibited must be plainly written on back of poster.

Contest closes Thursday, October 15. All posters must be sent to the state publicity chairman, at Brainerd, by the morning of October 17; judging of posters will take place the morning of October 19. Announcement of the winning posters will be made during the afternoon session.

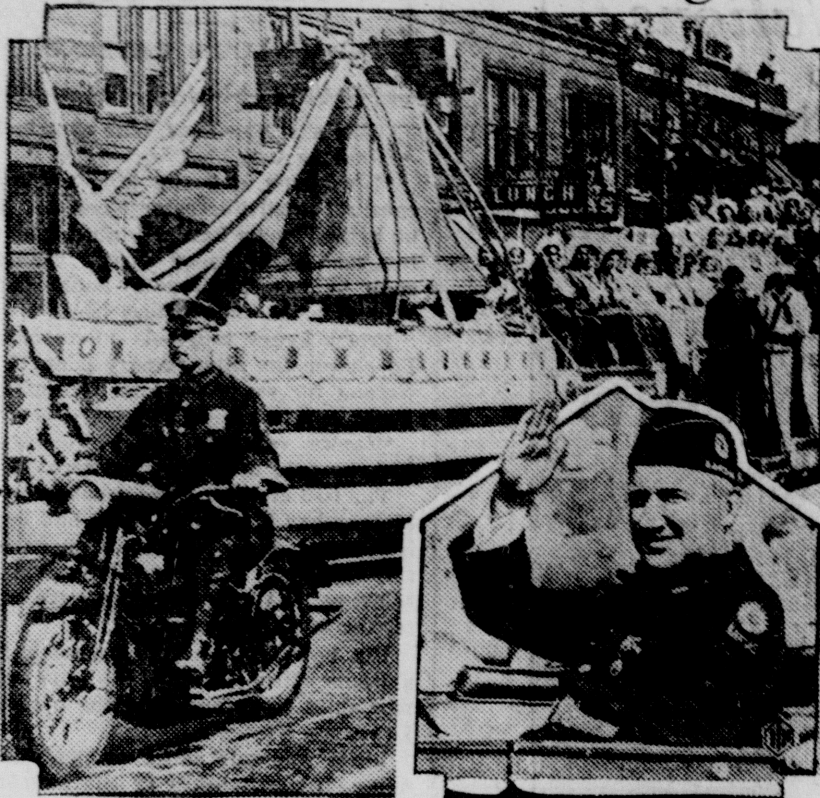

As usual, all posters will become a part of an exhibit at publicity headquarters during the convention and three honors will be awarded.

Students in the Lincoln, Lowell, Harrison, Whittier and Washington buildings who are interested in the poster contest will receive instructions and make their posters at the Washington high school under the supervision of Miss Madge True, city art instructor.

Three Brainerd judges will be selected to conduct local judging.

Legion Hosts March Again

As in other years that have witnessed conventions of the American Legion, the hosts of war veterans paraded to the martial airs of many bands and the resounding cheers of thousands of onlookers when the former soldiers and sailors strutted their stuff through Detroit streets. The float depicts the Liberty Bell and Revolutionary War characters while National Commander Ralph T. O'Neil is shown (inset) waving to the crowds as he rides in the parade.

Bandits Terrorize 10 Employees in Robbery

Westmont, Ill., Sept. 26.—(U.P.)—Four bandits terrorized 10 employees and customers in the First State Bank of Westmont today, slugged a bank clerk with a pistol butt and escaped with $10,000 they scooped from the cashier's cage and the vault.

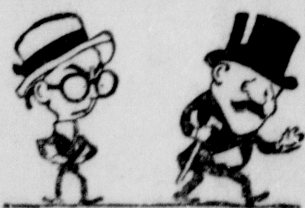

Everyone in the bank was ordered to lie on the floor as the robbers entered. One bank clerk failed to comply quickly and was hit on the head. Sheriff John F. Hesterman of Page county ordered 30 deputies to start patrolling the highways in search of the sedan bearing Illinois license 1330606 in which the bandits escaped. The car had been stolen from Dr. Herman Reinsch, Chicago.

California Stars Drive to Repeal Law

San Francisco, Sept. 26.—(U.P.)—An intensive drive for repeal of California's criminal syndicalism law through a state referendum is in progress under the direction of a "State Committee for the Repeal of the Criminal Syndicalism Law," with headquarters in this city.

The organization announced that 20,000 signatures have been obtained to a petition to place a repeal proposition on the ballot. By December, the required date, it will be necessary to have 111,000 signatures if the repeal is to be voted on.

Indorsement of the fight against the law has been voted by unions representing thousands of laborers. The law was "designed to intimidate and break the labor movement," a statement by the committee charged.

Brewery Head Indicates Readiness to Operate

Milwaukee, Sept. 25.—(U.P.)—If the manufacture of four per cent beer were legalized, the Pabst Corporation of Milwaukee would need 1,000,000 bushels of barley immediately to operate its brewery, Fred Pabst, Sr., president, said today.

That much barley would cost slightly less than $500,000 at present prices, Pabst said.

The brewer said that the nation's breweries would have to have at least 60,000,000 bushels of barley immediately if congress were to legalize the manufacture of real beer.

AUTHORITIES SEND THREE CITY GIRLS TO SAUK CENTER

VIOLATED PAROLES; TWO CAUGHT IN MINNEAPOLIS AFTER RUNAWAY

Three Brainerd girls who violated paroles on good behavior were today under supervision at the Sauk Center school for girls.

Two of the girls were picked up by the Travelers Aid at Minneapolis after confessed running away from Brainerd. They were originally brought before the juvenile court here for short lifting.

The third girl was transferred to the court here because of her conduct at an Aitkin dance hall.

13-MONTH YEAR IS GAINING APPROVAL

24 Nations Have Sanctioned Proposed Calendar.

Paris, France.—The year soon will have 13 months instead of 12 if a proposal sponsored by the League of Nations and supported by 24 nations goes into effect, according to Moses B. Cotsworth, director of the International Fixed Calendar League.

Disadvantages of the present calendar, Cotsworth said, are due to three undisturbed defects: The months are unequal; the month is not an exact multiple of the week; as the ordinary year consists of 365 days, just one day over 52 weeks, the week day change each year to different dates.

Several plans have been proposed to remedy these defects, but the plan which is claimed to have the most advantages and is most practical from the modern point of view is the international fixed calendar.

The new month, which would be inserted between June and July, in order to take up the days left over from the 28-day month, would be called Sol.

Under the new calendar Sunday would fall on the first, eighth, fifteenth and twenty-second of the month. The day of the week would always indicate the monthly date and conversely the monthly date would indicate its weekday name.

The complete four weeks would exactly quarter all months, harmonizing weekly wages and expenses with monthly rents and other accounts. Each month-end would coincide with the week end. Fractions of weeks at month ends would cease. Easter could be fixed with benefit to churches, certain industries and schools.

At there would be 13 monthly settlements during the year instead of 12, there would be a faster turnover in money and the same volume of business could be handled with less money, resulting in a considerable saving in every country.

Good Hard Work Used to Foil Breaks in Jails

Harrisburg, Pa.—Pennsylvania prisoners are too tired to riot, according to State Welfare Secretary John L. Hanna, who attributes hard work for the prisoners as the most effective deterrent on prison outbreaks.

Hanna said that 878 men in four state institutions are regularly employed at trades for which they are fitted. Others are given temporary work or are used on construction projects at the prisons.

While contending that overcrowding has been a leading cause of riots in other states and that Pennsylvania temporarily faces similar conditions pending construction of the new Eastern penitentiary, Hanna held the prison work program is balancing the overcrowded condition to keep disturbances among prisoners to a minimum.

"Eight hours a day of healthful, hard labor keeps a man close to normal life and leaves him comfortably tired at night with little inclination to conspire for rioting," Hanna said.

"Nothing, however, can be said to be a sure preventive."

Ancient Log Fort Still Stands at Woodbine, Ill.

Woodbine, Ill.—Still standing near here and in fair state of preservation is a fort of logs, surrounded by a stockade, which the early settlers constructed as a protection against Indians led by Chief Black Hawk one hundred years ago.

A spring which supplied the settlers with water when they sought refuge within the stronghold still flows.

There is a movement under way to rebuild the ancient structure and utilize it as a museum. The fort is probably the last relic of the kind in existence in the Middle West.

Kitten Wins Battle With Mountain Beaver

Seattle, Wash.—Bluebell, Maltese kitten, was always regarded as a great hunter, but her master thought her ability extended only to the capture of rats and mice.

Then one day she disappeared, and her owner found her at the bottom of an old dry well, 40 feet deep. Beside her was a dead mountain beaver. The kitten appeared none the worse for wear when pulled out.

Condition of the beaver's body indicated that the two had engaged in a desperate fight before falling into the well.

TWO GOLF BALLS TREED

Driving a golf ball into a tree and making it stay there is some feat, accidentally or otherwise, particularly when two closely associated accomplish it.

Such was the accomplishment of Lester E. Bredenberg and his brother-in-law, Clifford E. Welsh at the Brainerd Country club course.

Latest Lead in "Pirate" Mystery Collapses

Jersey City, N. J., Sept. 26.—(U.P.)—Assistant District Attorney Fred J. Munder of Suffolk county, N. J., emerged from a two-hour questioning of Miss Geneva Mutter at police headquarters here today with the announcement that the latest lead in the strange slaying of Benjamin P. Collings had collapsed.

"She knows nothing about it," he said. "She did not know either Collings or his wife, nor does she know anyone who knows them."

Men Convict Man and Women, Woman

Washington, Pa.—The first all-woman jury in Washington county demonstrated that it could be as fair as a jury of men in dispensing justice.

Mrs. Josephine Wozolek was complaining witness against Joe Fabis in an assault and battery case. A jury of twelve men found the man guilty.

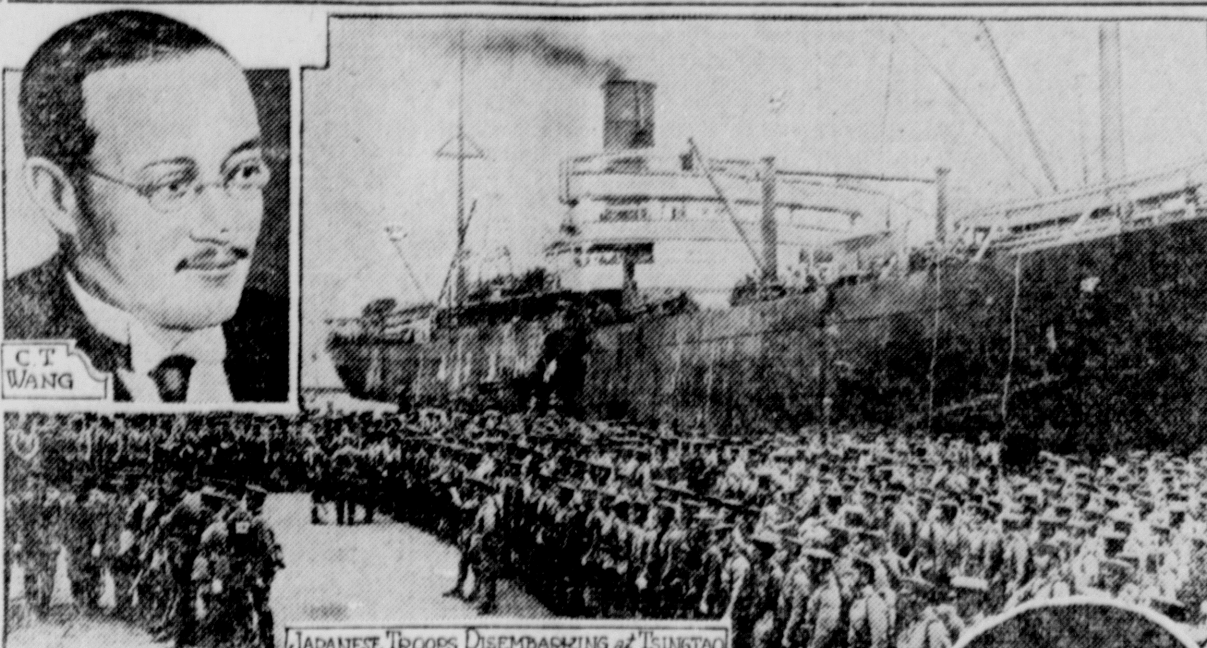

A few minutes later Mrs. Wozolek was herself defendant in another case, charged with violation of the liquor laws. A jury of twelve women convicted the woman.

Japanese Invasion of Manchuria Is Test for League of Nations

Non-Resistance Policy and Refusal of China to Be Party to New War Leaves Settlement of Dispute to International Body at Geneva—Kellogg Peace Pact May Be Invoked Next.

The invasion of Manchuria by Japanese troops under General Honjo, that was at first thought to be the start of another devastating war, may, by China's attitude in the matter, be dampened to the status of a mere local disorder. When the first clash came between the two countries, Marshal Chang Hsueh Liang, the youthful Governor of Manchuria, ordered Chinese forces to retire peaceably and offer no resistance to the invaders. In this he was backed by Foreign Minister C. T. Wang, who made representations to the Japanese Government, giving it the chance to withdraw and the opportunity to settle the affair with an apology. However, Japanese have continued to occupy town after town in the Province of the Manchus and now the Chinese Government is going to pin its faith in the League of Nations and the Kellogg Peace Pact. If the august body at Geneva decides that Japan has committed an act of war, it will be the duty of member nations of the League to sever trade and financial connections with her. Thus the efficacy of the League as a power for international peace will be tested.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The Southern Manchuria Railway, which connects with the Korean railways and controls all of Manchuria south of Mukden.

The "Province of the Manchus" has an area of 363,610 square miles and a population variously estimated at from 25,000,000 to 30,000,000. The richness of its black soil makes it a desirable agricultural prospect, so it is no wonder that Japan should covet this great natural reservoir for raw material for her industries.

But though it has been pointed out that Manchuria is well worth fighting for, China, torn for years by civil war, has another idea. When the first overt move was made by Japanese troops, under General Honjo, for the occupation of Manchuria, Chang Hsueh Liang, Manchuria's youthful governor and war lord, ordered a Chinese policy of non-resistance, withdrawing his troops peaceably before the advance of the Japanese hordes.

Designating the Japanese occupation of Manchuria as an unwarranted act of war, Marshal Chang Hsueh Liang is winning his faith in world opinion taking the Chinese side in the dispute. In this attitude the war lord is backed by Foreign Minister C. T. Wang, who has submitted China's side of the affair to the League of Nations.

Meanwhile, although virtually all of central Manchuria has been occupied by the Japanese, diplomatic relations between the two countries have not been broken off, which puts the one-sided war in the category of a local disorder. But if the Chinese should invoke Article XI of the League Covenant, the august body at Geneva will have to decide whether or not Japan has committed an act of war against all other members of the league. If so, it is likely that the member nations of the league will be called upon to sever all trade relations and financial relations with her.

It is a fine opportunity to test the efficacy of the league and the respect in which the Kellogg Peace Pact is held internationally. It will also prove or disprove the truth of the belief that it takes two to make a war. If the Chinese policy of non-resistance to force climaxes in a moral and material victory for that country, the lives that have been sacrificed in Manchuria will not have been sacrificed in vain.

Where "Crusader" Crash Killed Two

The pile of wreckage above is all that remained of the airplane Crusader and the bungalow on Staten Island, N. Y., into which it crashed in flames. James Goodwin Hall, pilot, escaped with minor injuries, while his passenger Peter J. Brady, New York banker and chairman of the city's aviation commission, was killed, as was Mrs. Toritta Marchesi, sixty-year-old occupant of the burned building. Arrow points to the motor of the plane, all that survived the flames that followed the crash. Hall and Brady were en route from New York to Detroit to attend the American Legion convention. Inset shows Hall (left) joking with Brady just before the take-off that ended in tragedy.

All Clear Sailing After the Fog

By H. LOUIS RAYBOLD

BLUE sky, blue seas, blue eyes looking into his!

"I wouldn't call the king my own cousin!" cried Forrester Knowlton, as he helped Peggy Sanford into his shining mahogany speed boat. "Where shall we go—North pole, South pole, or merely the blue Canary Isles?"

Pretty Peggy laughed. "Personally, I'd choose the blue Canary Isles, if it weren't for worrying Aunt Georgiana. As it is, how about Tamarack cove?"

"You're captain!" said Forrester, and the next moment they were off.

The two of them were members of a Murray bay house party and had been irresistibly drawn to one another from the very start, although it seemed at times as if Aunt Georgiana were contriving to keep them apart.

But now he had her to himself for a whole afternoon with the blue summer skies over them and the blue St. Lawrence stretching ahead.

Little was said until, suddenly and quite on the impulse of the moment, Forrester reached across to where Peggy sat in a cretonned wicker chair and possessed himself of her hand.

Slowly she withdrew it, a troubled look in her eyes. "Please!"

Forrester's heart sank. "I wasn't just playing, Peggy," he said hoarsely. "I—I am quite crazy about you. I want you for my wife."

Peggy lifted a pair of miserable eyes to his. "It's impossible!" she said.

"Impossible? Then you must care for someone else?"

"Oh no!" cried Peggy quickly. "That is—I mean—well, I'm engaged to Lester."

Forrester stared, unable to believe what he had heard. True, he wasn't her own cousin and yet—why, everyone, including his own family, knew what sort of a boy Lester was. Weak, unable to resist temptation of any sort.

"Peggy—" he began desperately.

But Peggy interrupted him. "Look, Forrester, is that smoke?"

Forrester looked ahead where a formless gray cloud was blotting out their view.

"Fog," he said briefly, "rolling in from the ocean." With a turn of the wheel, he swung the Starling about so sharply she showed her blades above water. "We'll have to race it home," he said.

At that instant, the engine sputtered, caught, and died. With an exclamation, Forrester sprang to the tank. Then he groaned. "Hang Lester! I let him have this boat all day yesterday and told him to be sure and fill up at the landing. Instead, he turned in the reserve and we've been running on that."

He was too concerned over his discovery to notice that Peggy's eyes had widened suddenly at the mention of Lester's name. It was important that they get out of the ticklish situation they were in. Already, cool wisps of the incoming fog were brushing their faces.

"Take the wheel and keep her headed toward that point," he directed his companion.

Reaching under the cushioned seat, he extracted a half length of oar, used in fending when the usual bumpers proved inadequate.

"We'll just about make it," he said quietly, and set to work.

After what seemed an interminable length of time but was in reality little more than a couple of hours, the bow of the Starling nosed the sandy beach that stretched at the foot of a low bluff.

"We'll find the main road not far from the river," said Forrester confidently, "and follow it to the town."

He turned to lend the girl a helping hand up the bank, and to his intense surprise, found it pressed between both of his.

"Wait, Forrester," she said shyly. "I—I think I am no longer engaged to Lester. I did it in the beginning to please Aunt Georgiana, who, after all is only a sort of step-aunt, but she has been wonderfully good to me. But yesterday he had to go to Three Rivers in the runabout—that there wouldn't be room for me. Instead—well, he took Genevieve Roberts out in your boat.

"I know I am right, for I saw Genevieve on the dock very early in the morning, and last night I overheard her tell Aunt Georgiana she had been steering the Starling all day. I thought she had been with you."

The man nodded gravely. "A lot is clear to me now," he said. "Lester asked me not to mention his change of plan to his mother, nor the fact that I did her errands in Three Rivers. Yes, I feel as if I were coming out of a fog. But Peggy, this means—"

One look into the lovely blue eyes uplifted to his and he knew what it meant.

Glass Collectors Puzzled

There is no distinguishing mark by which all Sandwich glass can be identified. A little boat-shaped salt-cellar is generally accepted as the earliest of the Sandwich salts. This has the imprint "B and S Glass company" on the stem, "Sandwich" on the bottom, and "Lafayette" on each of the side wheels. If the Sandwich works had continued the practice of marking all their pieces, there would be less difficulty now about the probable source of bits of glass claimed as Sandwich. —Washington Star.
